

TENDERREADY

Helping you prepare

WELCOME

Our team have a vision. A vision to make tender production accessible to all size businesses. Not everyone has tendering down to a tee! In fact, 98% of companies will tell you of a failure they've had with tendering! The first stages of tendering are crucial in ensuring you GET IT RIGHT, FIRST TIME! You need to be TENDERREADY!

Our procurement experts have an extensive amount of experience at both sides of the table, ultimately providing you with the fundamental skills and the knowledge needed to succeed. Our professionals have not only produced tenders for over a decade for a whole range of clients from all sectors, but have also sat on the buyer's side, critiquing tenders and marking them against the scoring mechanisms provided.

If you're looking for initial support with tendering, and want this delivered on a one to one basis rather than training in a group environment, then our service is perfect for you.

WHO WE ARE

With decades of experience, our team are procurement experts and writing professionals who can support you with the development of company and industry-specific content, portal navigation and practical management of tendering!
